Secretaries Report

The Western Reserve Division Code Academy started the 30 hour 2011 NEC course November 5, 2012 at the Parma fire training facility at 7914 Day Dr., Parma, OH. The BBS credits are for CBO RBO MPE EPE and ESI. Contractors credits are two hours each night, both inspectors and contractors can attend any amount classes one night at a time. Price for contractors is $25 a night or $100 for 10 credit hours. Inspectors are $25 a night or $150 for members or $175 for nonmembers. Inspectors get three credit hours for one night.

Contractors that are attending tonight please stop at the back table before you leave and grab a few flyers for the code class. There is still plenty of time for contractors to get there 10 credit hours we would appreciate it attending contractors if you would drop these flyers off at your respected supply houses that you frequent throughout the week. The Western Reserve Division needs your support to help get more attendees to these classes. All profits from these classes go to the Western Reserve Division educational fund.

Not to forget December 2012 prosecutor Barbara Tamos , will be giving her presentation she gave two years ago in contractual law with respect to contractors and inspectors. This is one all should attend. Barb uses dialogue from the attendees to keep things interesting. Bring your questions. Barb will be the one that will be able to answer them for you.
