Fred S. Engelman

Passed away suddenly December 16, 2009. Fred retired from Local 38 in 1992 after 50 years of service. Shortly after he became employed as an Electrical Inspector and Residential Building Inspector for the City of Seven Hills. Fred has been there for 15 years. Our deepest sympathy goes out to his wife Miriam and his son Robert, daughter Karen, and all his Grand Children.

Fred has been an institution at the Western Reserve Division sitting Front row and always volunteering to make a motion as you will see below from December's Meeting. It will be a very empty feeling looking over and not seeing Fred there.

We will miss you Fred....Rest in Peace

Secretaries Report

The 30 Hour Code Class was a moderate success. Due to the BBS cancellation of their August session our class was not approved till late September. With hardly any advertisement the Western Reserve Division raised $2096 for the General fund. This would have been equal to a successful Golf outing. Thirteen calls have received from Individuals seeking our next Code Class.

Eight of the calls were from individuals who just took someone else's course or seminar; they expressed their disappointment with the quality of Education they received. Even though they got the CEU's they required, they expressed interest in attending the next Western Reserve Divisions course.

We will try for a February Code class at this facility. If this facility is not available, Joe Cenzori has been offered a classroom at Parma Town Mall free of charge to the Western Reserve Division from the Parma Fire Dept. The only restrictions are if they are not using it. Most if not all of their events take place during the day so there should be no conflicts with our night courses.

There is another Municipality checking their 2010 schedule for their Council Chambers to be available to the Western Reserve for classes. Either way we should be able to arrange something. Joe Cenzori will inquire with the BBS to add approval to the list of disciplines already approved for our course to include Fire Prevention Inspectors. There has been some inquires about Fire Inspectors taking Electrical Code Classes, so this is worth exploring. These groups of Inspectors often overlap into our field of expertise. They can be an asset to us as well ass we can be an asset to them.

Jack Bene' called Joe last week offering his services to do some joint classes' together.

George Foster was presented with his Meter Lamp and for those who didn't see the flier passed around at the last meeting there is a picture of it on the home page of the web site.

George Foster announced the slate of nominees.
