Secretaries Report

Due to the educational program time constraints tonight, Any new business, any old business and good of the order that can wait till next month would be greatly appreciated.

The 30 our Western Reserve division code class at Lakewood City Hall has started its third week. Due to budget constraints in many cities the attendance is down by approximately 50%. This is a big disappointment: However the class attendees with all of their knowledge and experience are making these classes a very enjoyable experience.

Tom Jarus has been at every class making sure there is coffee and taking care of all the paperwork for each class. Tom is usually at every one of our classes making sure things go smooth. Mark ROM is also one that attends all the classes helping: However due to medical issues Mark was not able to make the January luncheon as well as any classes. Through the teamwork of Tom and Mark, Tom adapted his schedule to make sure the Western Reserve Division class would go on as scheduled.

All Western Reserve Division Meetings as well as Western Reserve Division Classes will offer Certificates for Professional Engineers.

Each Western Division Meeting will offer a Certificate for two Hours of Continuing Education for PE certifications.

In addition all Western Reserve Division Classes will offer the same. This can be a large savings for these folks at our prices.

By becoming a member, and attending all Western Reserve meetings, 16 hours of Continuing Education is available to them.

This should help boost our membership by gaining Professional Engineers, with the scope of expanding our diversification of knowledge within our membership. With growing diversification, networking between members will become another Western Reserve Division asset.

Our monthly meeting educational program is booked throughout May.

March 11, 2014 will be Jack Bene` covering changes in overcurrent protection.
