Secretaries Report

Discussion on how the Ohio Board of Building Standards is conducting Investigations on Building Departments. There were a few Members who voiced concerns that they are either under Investigation or a colleague is under investigation. The process seems flawed and further discussion will follow. It was suggested that a lawyer or someone from your Law Department be present during the deposition phase of the inquiry. It is a concern that once a Department or Inspector is found in error they get a penalty imposed and there is no mention on the findings for an appeal process. Other concerns are; the Board of Building Standards is not following their own Chapter One guidelines.
